ABOUT BARBARA J. RATLIFF

Twenty-Year U.S. Navy Veteran | Author | Publisher | Speaker

Barbara J. Ratliff is a twenty-year United States Navy veteran, author, speaker, and co-founder and publisher of Jackrabbit Punkin Publishing LLC. Her work is rooted in resilience, faith, legacy, literacy, and the belief that stories can help people recognize the strength within their own journeys.

She holds a Bachelor of Business Administration from St. Leo University and brings decades of military service, professional experience, and lived experience to her work as an author and independent publisher.

Barbara is the author of the Battles Beyond the Waves memoir series, beginning with Battles Beyond the Waves and continuing with The Fading Lighthouse. She is also the creator of The Adventures of D.D. & Reuel, a children's mystery series inspired by family, imagination, learning, and the enduring value of community.

Through Jackrabbit Punkin Publishing LLC, which she co-founded with her husband, Charles E. Ratliff, Barbara is building a publishing company dedicated to stories that inspire resilience, preserve legacy, encourage literacy, and endure beyond the final page.

Her work also extends beyond publishing through JPP's Read It Forward Program, an initiative designed to help place books into the hands of readers and communities.

Veteran. Author. Publisher. Storyteller.

PRAISE FOR BATTLES BEYOND THE WAVES

"I had tears throughout the entire book. I have not read a book cover to cover in over twenty years."

- F. Parquet

"All I can say is WOW! I said to myself, this isn't fair or right. I said to myself, I can relate. I said to myself, that happened to me too."

- Janet B.

"As I read Battles Beyond the Waves, all the situations Elara went through felt like sledgehammers... At the same time, those hammers made me keep picking up the book to see what was next! Can't wait to read the next installment."

- Corey B.

"Battles Beyond the Waves is louder than the silence endured."

- Joshua M.

"Your story is one of resilience, healing, and faith."

- B3U Podcast Team
